Adi is a student. He is in the first year now. He is clever and diligent. When he has finished studying his lessons, he often plays some games with his friends. One of his favorite games is paying hide and seek. Adi and his friends like this game because it is a cheap one. They do not any money to play the game.

Two or more players, usually four or five, can join the game. One of them, who becomes the guard, must find all the hiding players.

To begin the game, the guard closes his eyes and counts to ten. The other players run in all directions and hide somewhere. When the guard finds of sees a hiding player, he must call out the player's name and run to the home base. He continues doing this until all of the hiding players are found. The player who is first found becomes the next guard. But if one the hiding players manages to control the home base, and he is not found yet, the guard has to start the game all over again.
